I'm going to show you a genius strategy that will allow anyone doing this method to make over $300 per day with affiliate marketing. You do not need to show your face, you do not need to create any videos, and you don't even need a website.

First up you need to find a product that you can promote as an affiliate so you can start earning some affiliate commissions. You can choose almost any product out there as long as it's got an affiliate program. I have found that digital products with a free trial work the best with this strategy.

You can check the list of the best affiliate niches on the bottom of this ebook. One of the niche I've had a lot of success with is AI Tools because there's lots of them popping up at the moment, they're kind of trending, there's a lot of interest in them and because there's a lot of tools it means there's not that much competition from other affiliates.

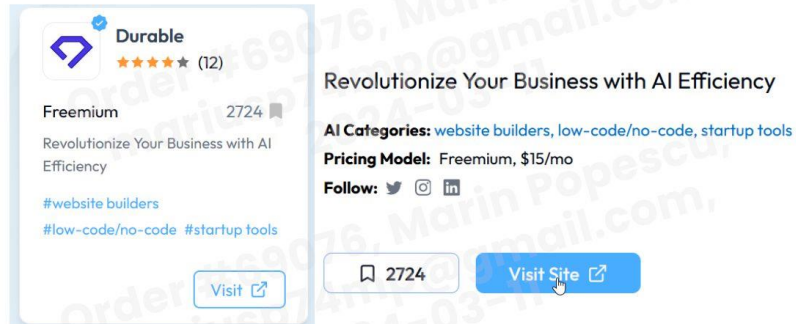

The place that I found most of my AI tools that I promote as an affiliate is this website here called Futurepedia.io

The profit sandwich

So once you've got a product that you want to promote, now we need to create something called a profit sandwich.

The profit sandwich it's just a random name I just created for the bit that I'm going to show you now, but I kind of like that name "profit sandwich". To create this profit sandwich we're going to head over to ChatGPT to help us out. Now you could obviously just write this yourself but why would you write it yourself when you can use ChatGPT to help you out.

This is where we're actually going to create the meat of our sandwich or tofu if you are vegan. This is the bit that's going to make us the profit.

What we want to do is, we want to type in this prompt that says “write me a 800w chatty blog style post”. Do not worry, you don't need your own blog, you do not need your own website. I'm going to show you how we're going to use this very very soon, but we just need to create a body of text. What we need is to write about is the product that we've chosen.

This product I've chosen for this example is called Durable, it's an AI website builder. You don't just want to say “write me a 800 chatty blog style post about durable AI”, you want to kind of take it up a level you want it to be engaging. You want it to be like a story and you don't want it to feel like it's promoting any kind of product, that's really really key for this strategy.

So for this I would write something like, “Write me 800w chatty blog style post about the future of AI and how it's taking over human jobs, include a section about web developer jobs and how AI is a threat talk about the AI website builder Durable”

Write me 800 word chatty blog style post about : future of ai and how it taking human jobs. include a section about web developer jobs and how ai is threat. Talk about the ai website builder Durable.ai

We kind of created a story of it, we're grabbing attention, it's going to be engaging.

That doesn't feel like we're promoting any kind of product, it's going to grab the reader in, it's going to get them engaged. There's going to be an opportunity where we can actually say there's this new website builder that's AI generated, and you can create websites in seconds, here's the link. That is how we're going to do it.

ChatGPT has done a really good job here. It's written as a blog post, it feels like it's been written by a human, and it grabs the reader in. It doesn't really feel too salesy but it does mention the product in here where we'll be able to add hyperlinks to our affiliate products.

Now what you want to do, which is really important for this strategy, is you want to make sure that this content doesn't look like it's been written by AI. You need to put a bit of effort into this. You need to check this a few times. I use this tool here which is a free Chrome extension called AI Content Detector. What it will do is to check whether your content looks like it's been written by human or AI.

Write me 800 word chatty blog style post about:

You just want to use the same prompt again "write me 800w chatty blog style post" and then you could just say something along the lines: about the future of AI or about AI in the workplace or something along those lines and create an engaging post.

Again it needs to sound like a human, it needs to be engaging and it needs to have an eye-catching attention, grabbing title as well. By that point you're going to have three blog posts, one that sells and two that don't sell.

Warming up

Now when you first create a post, it's probably not going to get any views, so what we need to do here is we need to try and get a little bit of traffic coming to this.

The most easiest way to do this is just by sharing it, so you copy the link and share it on social media. We don't need loads of followers we're not trying to get this to go viral, we're not trying to get anything like that. We just want a bit of real people coming, getting a few views so Medium start to think this is a real writer, they're not just doing this for self-promotion, they're doing this because they're trying to create content that they want to share with people. So we want to get a few clicks.

Share it on Facebook groups and on Reddit, choose the groups related to your niche. Post your link around, try and get a few eyeballs on it, it will just help warm up your Medium account.

When we're going to post the post that's going to actually make you some money? You don't want to do this too soon, you want to leave it for a couple of days, let there be on your account, then you want to upload your meat from your profit sandwich.

You want to upload the article that's got the affiliate links in, so you just repeat the process again. You want to paste in your article but then what we want to do is every time we mention the product we're talking about we want to just hyperlink that by clicking on that and then pasting in your affiliate link that you got from the affiliate program.

Affiliate link

Now you want to upload the article that's got the affiliate links in, so you just repeat the process again. You want to paste in your article but then what we want to do is every time we mention the product we're talking about we want to just hyperlink that by clicking on that and then pasting in your affiliate link that you got from the affiliate program.

When you signed up now, do not add too many affiliate links in. Add maybe one or two affiliate links near a call to action especially at the start. When you're first starting out, then you want to do the same thing again that you did with the first article. So you want to share it wherever you can, so share it on social media if you can, share it in groups, share it with your friends, send it to your mom even if it means an extra click on it. You just want to get a few organic clicks onto your article of people coming from externally to Medium to read your article. But to be honest you probably still won't go viral from doing that because you need the next little bit of secret source that I've been using to help my articles go viral on Medium.

PURCHASED AT BUYSSELLMETHODS.COM

BUY OR SELL EARNING METHODS

Before I share with you what this is, I need to be very very very clear that you first need to make sure the content you're putting on Medium is high quality. You can't just use this next little strategy that I'm going to show you and just post any old crappy little content and hope that it's going to work really really well. I mean it might work well once or twice at the start but it's not going to be sustainable.

What you need to lead with here, you need to lead with producing high quality engaging content for Medium. First and foremost don't try cutting corners and just getting the most simplest bit of AI generated content and posting it up and then doing the next step.

You should definitely create engaging content, spend more time on creating really good content with good titles and then you can do the strategy that I'm going to tell you now.

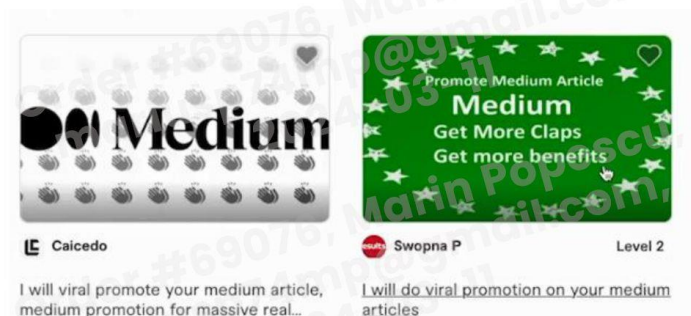

PURCHASED AT BUYSSELLMETHODS.COM

BUY OR SELL EARNING METHODS

What we want to do is we want to come over to Fiverr.com and you want to search for "Medium article promotion".

You'll find some of these sellers here that are selling this service. They will promote your article in their gig.

They're not really going to promote your article that's not what we want them to do, but you'll find some of them where they'll actually help you get claps on your article.

PURCHASED AT BUYSSELLMETHODS.COM

BUY OR SELL EARNING METHODS

On Medium there's something called claps which is actually just likes and we can actually pay someone on here that's going to help us get some claps on our article. Here they can get over 3,500 claps for $5 and this will help your article go viral on Medium.

The screenshot shows a service listing on a platform. The title is "I will do viral promotion on your medium articles" with a 4.8 rating from 43 reviews. The provider is Swopna P, located in Bangladesh, with 507 orders completed. The service is categorized under Digital Marketing and Book & eBook Marketing. A pricing table shows three options: Basic (£4.32), Standard, and Premium. The Basic option includes promoting a medium article to over 3500 claps and 1-day delivery. A "Continue" button is visible next to the Basic price. Below the table, there are tags for various services like social media marketing, content writing, and data entry, along with a "Contact me" button.

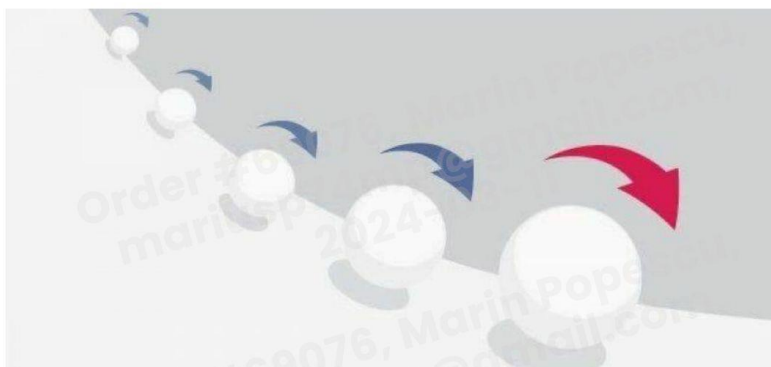

Basic	Standard	Premium
BASIC
Promote your medium article to over 3500 claps on article
1 Day Delivery
Continue →
Compare packages

Now the reason this works it's not because we're hacking the algorithm or anything like that it's because when people click on your article and it's got no claps it's got no engagement. A lot of them will click right off, they won't even engage with it and if that's a brand new account and you've only just posted there's a good chance that you're just never going to be seen by that many people.

PURCHASED AT BUYSSELLMETHODS.COM

BUY OR SELL EARNING METHODS

The algorithm won't show you to that many people but if you can get some claps on your first few posts straight away after you've shared it on social media, they look organic, they look real. When someone does come to read your article from media, just a generic member of the public, and they see you've already got some claps, that's going to encourage them to want to read this article.

It looks high quality but he also going to encourage them to leave more claps themselves and the snowball effect happens. That's how you can start to go viral.

Those initial claps just give your post that little boost that it needs at the start, but do not overuse it as we're not trying to fake engage, we're not trying to make us look like we're super famous on Medium. We're just trying to start that ball rolling, just when we first post our article which is going to help us build and build and build and get more views and more people reading it.

We need to actually start with a keyword in mind rather than a product in mind. In the previous strategy I showed you we found a product first and we created blog posts around that.

For this we kind of need to know what people are already searching for on Google and then kind of reverse engineer that.

I use this free keyword generator on ahrefs.com and basically allows us to type in words here and see what people are searching for.

You can just type in AI and then you'll see what people are searching for, the search volume and how difficult it is to rank for those keywords.

First off, let's chat about the most obvious perk: convenience. We live in a world where everything is literally at our fingertips. With just a few clicks, Hello Fresh promises to deliver fresh ingredients and easy-to-follow recipes right to our doorstep. And boy, do they deliver

Obviously you need to make sure that it's humanlike text and do all of the checks that we did before. Then post it back onto medium.com add in those images like we did earlier add in the alt text.

There's a good chance that this will rank on Google and it might take a few attempts and you might get one that does rank a few of them might not rank. It's just a case of trial and error what I would say try and rank a few posts that have got no affiliate links in them, to see whether you can actually practice getting it to rank.
